

LET'S DANCE AT THE JAPANESE SUMMER FESTIVAL!

Mito Komon Festival is a summer tradition in Mito, Ibaraki, Japan. At the festival's major event, the "city carnival," international students and Japanese students at Ibaraki University enjoyed parading along the main street in front of Mito Station. This year, the Mito Komon Festival will be held "online" due to the spread of COVID-19. Therefore, the Center for Global Education at Ibaraki University decided to participate in this festival remotely and invites students and faculty members of both Ibaraki University and its overseas affiliated schools to participate. Why not participate remotely in the Mito Komon Festival, and do international exchange through dancing?

Ways to Participate

1. Sign-up from this link!

2. Participate in the dance practice sessions held on the following schedule!

Sunday, July 12, 21:00-22:00 (Japan Time)

Saturday, July 18, 9:00-10:00 (Japan Time)

Sunday, July 19, 21:00-22:00 (Japan Time)

The sessions will be held at the ZOOM.

You can see what kind of dance you will be dancing from here.

3. Shoot a video of dancing with your smartphone or camera!

4. Submit the video to the Center for Global Education

by Wednesday, July 22(Japan Time)!

By putting all the videos together...

Participate in the Remote Mito Komon Festival

After the video is uploaded on YouTube with the "limited Access," it will be posted on the website of the "Remote Mito Komon Festival."

Mito Komon Festival, Summer 2019

You can attend all 3 dance practice sessions or just one!

The practice will be done in small groups using the breakout session function, so you can get along with other participants easily!

To submit, use file-sharing services like DropBox and Google Drive, or send through the LINE group. If you don't know how to do it, please contact at CGE-apply02@ml.ibaraki.ac.jp

For inquiries, please contact
Center for Global Education
CGE-apply02@ml.ibaraki.ac.jp